

GOVERNMENT AUCTIONS AND RETAIL OUTLETS

Its amazing that there's a ton of wealth out there, that very few people know about, or much less take advantage of. That hotbed of wealth is Government auctions!

Incredible bargains can be found at auctions held by the Department of Defense, the U.S. Postal Service, the IRS, and your local state, county, city, and municipal governments

And the best news of all is that these auctions are held year round at over two hundred locations nationwide (not to mention, all, the different city, county and municipal auctions) and are open to the public. In fact, you're welcomed because, they need to sell!

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE AUCTIONS

The Defense department holds the largest of the government auction bargain houses. The Defense Department buys in such quantity that the price they pay for goods is pennies on the dollar compared to what you and I would have to spend. Any excess goods are typically held for auction, sold at a loss, and resold, by people like you and me, for a huge profit!

These auctions are typically held once a month at more than 175 military bases around the country and at an additional 20 or more locations worldwide. That makes the bargain hunting easy! For more information call the Department of Defense at 800-468-8289 and

US POSTAL SERVICE

Have you ever wondered what happened to those holiday presents that never arrived? There's a great chance that the U.S. Postal Service sold that merchandise to the highest bidder at a U.S. Postal auction. These items which can contain anything from compact disc players and camera equipment to books, clothes, and even small appliances are usually sold in bins for less than $100.00! The condition of the merchandise at this type of sale is usually excellent since most of it is new. For more information call one of the mail recovery centers in Atlanta, Philadelphia, San Francisco or St Paul.

Internal Revenue Service

Well, I guess we all know what can happen if you don't pay your taxes. Not only will you have to pay huge penalties and interest, have your wages taken, bank accounts frozen and then seized, but also you may end up with your personal belongings being taken and sold at an IRS auction. You will find merchandise ranging from (these items were auctioned off recently) a 1991 17 ft center console sunbird boat, to baseball cards such as Henry Aaron, Willie Mays, Jackie Robinson, Mickey Mantle, Berra, Clemente, and Ted Williams. Many times you will find items such as office equipment, furniture, t.v.'s and automobiles. The list of items found at these auctions is as broad as your imagination. For more information call the IRS at 800-829-1040. They'll lead to the auction closest to you or check your local county courthouse.

STATE, COUNTY, CITY, LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

The police departments usually sponsor these auctions, the division of motor vehicles, utility companies and the local government purchasing departments. The items that are on the auction block are either confiscated or are surplus goods that once again, will be sold to the highest bidder. Some examples of some of the items sold from around the country in just one week are.... in Casa Grande Az., farm and construction equipment. In Lake Forest Calif., vehicles, jewelry, electronics, and personal property. In Florida, the Village of Palm Springs, audiovisual equipment, computers, office furniture and supplies, hand tools and vehicles. In New Jersey, trucks, trailers, green houses, forklifts, and cultivators. In just one week, 31 states held government auctions!

The opportunities certainly exist, and once again very few people know about or take advantage of this terrific opportunity. For information on these local auctions contact your county courthouse and you too will find yourself with tremendous results.

HOW TO BID

1. Offer a very low bid at the outset. This will make the other bidders wary of the value of the merchandise and keep them from making competitive bids.
2. Only increase your offer by half of what the auctioneer is asking for. This tactic will slow the overall bidding for the item that is being auctioned. In the long run this will help keep the final price lower than if you just let the auctioneer have his way.
3. Bid higher than the original asking price. This may sound a bit strange but it will probably keep others from bidding. They'll sense that you really want the item and will be afraid the price will go too high.
4. Never seem too anxious or too excited about a particular item. The auctioneer will sense this and ring up counter bids that do not exist just to get you to pay more.
5. Follow these simple steps and you'll reap great results.

WHERE AND WHEN IS THE NEXT AUCTION?

The following is a list of federal and state auctions. We hope you find this information to be useful and rewarding. If you plan to attend one of these auctions please call the number listed for terms of payment. These terms will vary from office to office and state to state. Happy hunting!
